STEEL PACTS STILL UNDER NEGOTIATION

New York, (P)—Further negotiations were expected today in efforts to effect complete agreement on steel contracts and get some 650,000 striking United Steelworker members back to work after more than a month of idleness.

Although basic settlement on economic issues was reached last Friday, so-called non-economic differences between the union and the individual companies remained to be ironed out.

Newspaper reports that mass contractual settlements were in the making last night were denied by a union spokesman.

The spokesman said he had "no knowledge" of such settlements, including USW agreement on "contract language" with the United States Steel Corp.

Union and industry sources have said they expect the U. S. Steel-USW agreement to be accomplished first. In the past this has set a pattern for contracts with the rest of the industry.

In Pittsburgh, top industry officials said they were confident the agreements could be worked out within a few days, possibly by the end of this week.

Meanwhile, there were some increases in Allied-industry unemployment—which had dropped below the 100,000 mark Monday with resumption of operations at some steel company-owned "captive" coal mines.

Holding up final settlement and a return to work are such company and local issues as defining pension rules, specifying incentive rates, and working procedure within plants.

Each of the 12 major companies has a team of bargainers talking with union representatives.

Last Union Army Veteran Is Dead At the Age of 109

BULLETIN

Duluth, Minn., (P)—Albert Woolson, last Union Army veteran of the Civil War, died today and the Grand Army of the Republic died with him. He was 109.

The old drummer boy, who was "scared to death" the first time he fired a cannon, outlived some 2,675,000 of the Boys in Blue.

Woolson died in St. Luke's Hospital where he had been confined several times recently because of lung congestion. Doctors said the congestion was brought on chiefly because of his advanced age.

He leaped into a coma early Saturday. Since then he had been fed intravenously and had been given oxygen.

The old soldier showed remarkable stamina in recovering from his previous illnesses. Dr. Charles Bagley, his physician, said after Woolson showed good improvement in June that his "deep-seated interest and drive" kept him going.

Hospitalized in May, Woolson spent Memorial Day at his Duluth home, then returned to St. Luke's the following day. He had been confined since.

Allen M. Gibson, president and general manager of the Home Telephone Company of Sheffield, announced today that the Telephone Utilities of Pennsylvania, Inc., of Export, Pa., had acquired the stock holdings of several of the largest stockholders representing most of the stock in the Home Telephone Company.

Harold G. Payne, president and general manager of the Telephone Utilities of Pennsylvania, Inc., stated there would be no change in personnel or operating procedure in the immediate future. The engineering, construction facilities and special maintenance staffs of Telephone Utilities of Pennsylvania, Inc., would now be available to the Home Telephone Company. Mr. Payne also stated Telephone Utilities of Pennsylvania, Inc. owns

Congressional Leaders Call Stassen "Irresponsible" for Launching Anti-Nixon Drive

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Washington (P)—The heads of the Republican Senate and House campaign committee today accused Harold E. Stassen of "irresponsible actions" in seeking to dump Vice President Nixon.

The joint statement by Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan.) and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) came as Stassen began a 30-day leave of absence from his post as President Eisenhower's assistant on disarmament problems.

Stassen had requested the leave to push his campaign to replace Nixon on the 1956 Republican ticket with Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts. He announced he planned to open Eisenhower-Herter headquarters here today.

Prince Rainier Expecting Heir Next February

Monte Carlo (P)—Princess Grace of Monaco, is going to have a baby in February, the palace announced today.

The Princess, formerly actress Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, was married to Prince Rainier III of Monaco, in ceremonies here April 18 and 19.

By the terms of a treaty with France, this principality on the Mediterranean becomes subject to French taxes, and its men to the French draft, if Rainier dies without an heir.

Today's announcement said: "His Serene Highness Prince Rainier III, prince sovereign of Monaco, announced today in a broadcast message to his people that Her Serene Highness, Princess Grace, is expecting a baby to be born in the month of February."

"Following this announcement," the Prince pointed out the capital importance of the plans and projects for the future economic development of the principality in the light of this rejoicing news."

Actually the palace announcement was issued several hours before the scheduled time for the Prince's broadcast.

As early as last January, months before the marriage ceremony took place, Lloyds of London offered odds of 20 to 1 that Princess Grace would have a baby. A month before the wedding, chatting with reporters in Paris, Prince Rainier said he hoped they would have several children.

Reports that the Princess was expecting have been current for weeks. An announcement from the palace last Sunday said the Prince and his bride were planning a two-month visit to the United States, beginning Sept. 20.

Moon Township Has Right To Tax Airport Property

Pittsburgh (P)—Moon Twp. has won the right to tax certain terminal facilities at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

That ruling yesterday by Judge Harry M. Montgomery would enable the township to collect some $4,000,000 in back taxes since 1953 from Allegheny County.

Allegheny County officials said an appeal will be filed.

The Common Pleas Court just ordered the county tax board to reclassify the facilities for tax purposes.

Excepted from the court ruling are the airport's coffee shop, cafeteria, sandwich shop, checkrooms, barber shop, parking garage, taxi and limousine service and garbage and rubbish collection services.

Washington (P)—Harold E. Stassen opened an "E and Chris" headquarters today. Even as he did, the heads of the Republican Senate and House campaign committees loosed a blast at what they termed Stassen's "irresponsible actions." Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan.) and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) concurred in a joint statement that Stassen is wrong in his argument that Vice President Nixon would cost the Republicans votes if renominated and should be replaced on the GOP ticket by Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts.

"The loss of Vice President Nixon on the Republican ticket will cost our party many millions of votes," Schoeppel and Simpson said. The committees they head are concerned primarily with trying to elect Republicans to the Senate and House.

committee, and Simpson, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee, said Stassen "has been benighted and has apparently withdrawn from the team."

Dies in Crash of Stolen Car After Escaping the Police

Huntingdon (P)—A Chicago youth broke away from state police while he was being held for questioning here last night and stole a car in which he later met death when it plunged into the Juniata River.

Troopers James A. Fagnani and Fred L. Leamer, of the state police, said George E. Stockner, 19, lost control of the stolen car, crashed through a guard rail and plunged into the river.

Leamer said the excitement of the crash caused Walter E. Locke, 68, of Huntingdon RD-1 to suffer a fatal heart attack at a spot nearby where he was fishing.

Trooper Fagnani was admitted to Huntingdon Hospital suffering with exhaustion induced while trying to free the youth from the crashed car.

The two policemen said Stockner, and two women and another youth were picked up for questioning and taken to the Huntingdon State Police Barracks.

Leamer said Stockner bolted from the barracks, stole a car belonging to John Lewis, Huntingdon RD 1 and then it crashed.

The two troopers chased Stockner for several miles before the crash.

The other three were held by state police for further questioning. Leamer declined to say about what they were being questioned.

Ragged Children Lead Police to Cabin Tragedy

White Cloud, Mich. (P)—Two ragged young children found wandering in a nearby rural community led police last night to a small hunting shack where their father lay dead—shot through the back.

Newaygo County Sheriff Robert Dougan said the bullet that killed the man matched the caliber of the gun carried in a shoulder holster strapped around the waist of the youngest boy, 6.

Dougan identified the dead man as Louis F. Dishaw Jr., 33, a Grand Rapids factory worker. He estimated Dishaw had been dead two or three days.

The children, Lonnie, 8, and his younger brother Joey, apparently had been wandering unattended since their father's death. Dougan said their clothes were ragged and torn and Joey was naked to the waist.

Officer States Corps 'Regrets' Court-Martial

By BEN PRICE

Parris Island, S. C., (P)—A crusty, bemedaled Marine hero, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesky) Fuller, said today he thought the Marine Corps "regrets" the court-martial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon.

In a voice like a fog horn, the general told the seven-man court-martial panel, "I think from the testimony of Gen. Fats yesterday that he agrees and regrets that the Marine Corps ever ordered that this man be tried."

The Marine's commandant, Gen. Randolph C. Pate, told the court yesterday he thought McKeon merited only a reduction in rank and a transfer.

McKeon is the former drill instructor who led a platoon of 74 recruits on a night disciplinary march into a tidal marsh where six drowned.

Fuller, chest ablaze with eight rows of ribbons, appeared as an expert of Marine training methods at the trial of the 31-year-old native of Worcester, Mass.

Immediately after Fuller's testimony, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City said, "The defense rests."

The only Marine ever to hold five Navy Crosses and an Army Distinguished Service Cross, Fuller spoke in his normal battlefield voice. For his testimony, the microphones were turned off.

Earlier, the high-domed hero was asked by Berman whether he thought the night march led by McKeon was good military practice, "apart from the results."

The general replied: "In my opinion, the reason American soldiers made out so poorly in Korea was mostly due to lack of night training. If we are going to win the next war, in my opinion, 50 per cent of the training time should be allotted to night training."

Berman asked, "Do I take it you consider the march good?" Said Fuller, "good."

Meanwhile, pressure mounted in Congress for a public airing of just what went on when the Marines trained raw youths.

Youngster Is Killed In Crash Near New Castle

New Castle, (P)—Raymond Kahner, 14, of New Castle, was killed yesterday in an auto crash that also injured his 15-year-old New Castle companion.

Robert Wansittler, identified by police as the driver, was taken to Elwood City General Hospital where he was reported in fair condition.

Constable Earl Donley of Beaver County said the boys' car rammed into an embankment, 14 miles west of here, shortly after he signalled them to stop because he thought them too young to be driving.

Reading's Mayor Is Making Peace With Daily Newspapers

Reading (P)—Mayor Daniel F. McDevitt indicated yesterday his three-week feud with the city's two daily newspapers had ended.

A press table which had been removed from the City Council chamber was back in place when reporters arrived for the weekly session.

The mayor informed them that their press privileges, which he had revoked, were being restored at his request.

"It is my hope that the privilege will not be abused as it has been in the past," he added.

On July 9, McDevitt initiated a series of what the papers termed "harassments" against them.

The press room in City Hall was locked. A reporter posing for a photograph with a typewriter balanced on his knee on the City Hall steps was arrested and ordered to pay a fine for creating a disturbance. Access to routine police information was denied to the press.

Delivery trucks of the Reading Times and the Reading Eagle, morning and evening papers under single management but with separate editorial staffs, were ticketed for traffic violations while making their regular deliveries at newsstands.

Playground's Little Isaac!

Ronnie Kusio, one of Fish Derby winners, has his first catch measured. It turned out to be a 10½-inch bull head. He later won a prize with an 11-inch bass. —Photo by Chandler.

Neal Cole snagged the most prizes Wednesday afternoon as he dropped his line from Third Avenue bridge and reeled in the largest chub and most fish to win the second annual Fish Derby sponsored by Warren Playgrounds.

Neal's chub was 6½ inches long, for which he won a plug box donated by Ace Stores. For his eight fish, the most caught by any of the 40 contestants, he was presented a glass casting rod from Farr's sporting goods store.

Joey Critelli caught the largest fish, 14½ inches, and won a glass rod from Ace Store. Dean Lester hauled in the smallest, 3½ inches, and won a Shakespeare plug from Ace.

Don Gohardt and Tom Nasman each shared in biggest fish honors and were awarded a Shakespeare plug and winnow net, respectively.

Ronald Kusio brought the largest bass to gaff with an 11 inch. He received a flyrod from Mack's Newsroom.

Ten girls were among the 40 participants but as is customary in this sport the boys took most prizes. However, Donna Cramer did reel in the largest carp and for Mrs. Isaac Waltoning she was awarded a glass casting rod by Don Finley.

Youth Accused of Murdering Father Weds Girl in Case

Freeport, N. Y. (P)—Robert Gunn, 17, accused of killing his father in a fight when the parent opposed the youth's plans to wed his 16-year-old sweetheart, was married to the girl yesterday.

Gunn is free in $5,000 bail on a charge of second-degree manslaughter.

Gunn and Maureen White were married at the Freeport Presbyterian church. In attendance were Robert's mother and sister and his bride's mother, Mrs. Maurice White.

Mrs. White told newsmen: "I think they are going to be happy. They realize there is a cloud over them. But I believe they will work hard for their future."

With Gunn facing grand jury action, a honeymoon is out for the young couple.

Last Tuesday night, Robert got into a fight with his father, Peter, 50, over the latter's objections to his marrying Maureen.

Police quoted Robert as saying his father, whiskey on his breath, started to attack him with an iron bar. The youth said he knocked his father unconscious with his fists and with kicks.

Mrs. Gunn found her husband dead a short time later.

BIG HOUSING PROJECT

Pittsburgh, (P)—The Pittsburgh Housing Authority is ready to move ahead with construction plans for a 99-unit housing project on the city's North Side following federal government approval.

The Public Housing Administration yesterday approved the project on an 89-acre site near the East St. Bridge. The project will cost an estimated 14 million dollars and is scheduled for completion in mid-1959.

Disillusionment in Former Boss Causes Hodge Aide Suicide

Springfield, Ill. (P)—Friends say that before H. Kendall Olds died he expressed disillusionment in his former boss, ousted State Auditor Orville E. Hodge who is involved in a million-dollar state fund scandal.

Olds' body was found floating in Lake Springfield yesterday, across the water from Hodge's spacious lakeside home. Hodge, who hired Olds to be his publicity aide, commented through his attorney: "I am shocked beyond words."

"Hodge broke my heart," Olds' wife quoted him as saying a week ago after federal and state indictments had been returned charging Hodge with mishandling funds.

Ed Lonergan, head of Capital Press Service, a printing and publicity firm, was one of Olds' closest friends.

Lonergan said Olds, 46, told him last week: "You spend four years building a man up and he flops on you like this. I can't take it."

Olds' name has not figured in the Hodge check-cashing scandal.

Olds was last seen by some acquaintances, standing alone in the rain in front of a tavern near Lake Springfield.

Coroner William C. Telford said there were no marks of violence on the body. No notes were found.

Lloyd Morey, appointed to fill out Hodge's term in the elective office, said that he was planning to keep Olds in the auditor's office.

Three Dead and Two Are Hurt at Erie County Intersection

Erie (P)—Three young Erie women were killed and two men were injured early today in a three-way crash at the intersection of Routes 5 and 98, about 8 miles west of Erie.

State police said the collision involved a tractor trailer owned by Trans-American Trucking and two autos. The dead were in one vehicle.

They were identified as Brenda Howell, 16, Sandra Lee Chase, both of Erie, and Mrs. Nanette Caughlin, 19, mother of two children, of Lake City, a suburb of Erie.

Miss Chase apparently died instantly. Miss Howell died in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE TAKE PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES AS CONFERENCE IS MAPPED

By CARL HARTMAN

London (AP)—Both Britain and France ordered precautionary military measures today and, with the United States, put the finishing touches to a plan to call an international conference to place the Suez Canal under international control.

Prime Minister Eden, accusing Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser of "broken faith and broken promises," announced the military moved to cheering House of Commons. He said "certain naval, army and air force units" had been ordered to the Mediterranean from Britain and a limited number of specialized reservists called up. The Transport Ministry was reported to have authorized the requisitioning of passenger ships for troop movements.

The French Navy Ministry disclosed that 15 warships assembled at Toulon have been ordered to be ready to steam to "an unknown destination." Official French sources said the order was in connection with the crisis arising from Nasser's nationalization of the canal.

These moves were made as U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau awaited the final draft of a plan from their experts on the calling of an international conference to guarantee the continued international use of the strategic waterway.

It was reported Egypt and Soviet Russia would be invited to the conference. But there was a question whether Nasser would accept.

If he refused, the Western powers would be faced with the prospect of using military force. Both the French and British governments have been under heavy political pressure at home to take decisive action. Dulles, however, is reported to have urged moderation.

Eden told Commons that Britain will accept nothing less than an international authority to operate the canal. He charged Nasser with violating the international pact of 1888 establishing the international character of the canal, and also the 1954 treaty with Britain which recognized its international status. In the 1954 treaty Britain agreed to withdraw her military forces from the Suez Canal Zone.

Eden also expressed doubt that Egypt would be able to carry on expansion work along the canal in the next 10 or 15 years if Nasser pursues his announced plan, to divert the canal revenues to build his Aswan Dam. And he was skeptical of Nasser's promises to maintain.

Kirk Douglas Sues Walt Disney for Free Publicity

Los Angeles (P)—Kirk Douglas has sued Walt Disney for $415,000 over films showing the actor riding on Disney's miniature train.

Douglas' complaint said Disney violated the actor's right of privacy by taking the films surreptitiously during a social visit he and his family paid to the Disney home last April 4.

Named with Disney as defendants were the AEC network, which showed the films; three sponsors and three advertising agencies.

Douglas contends his earning power as a movie actor is based on the kind and number of appearances he chooses to make, and the amount of money he receives for such appearances.

Derby Director Issues Another Reminder About Trip to Akron

A very interesting and informative meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held yesterday at the YWCA, when Dick Cook, Warren Soap Box Derby director, gave a short talk, stressing organization on how the Derby is operated. Mr. Cook further added the only factor that made this race possible in Warren, in addition to the intensive efforts of the Jaycees, was the fact that the Times-Mirror and Dan's Chevrolet sponsored the derby.

He further added that the efforts of John Smith and Merle Seymour, event chairmen and many others really made it possible to have such a successful race. He also praised the efforts of the Jaycee Auxiliary in putting on the banquet following the race, and stated that Jerry Krause, Bradford and Dan's Chevrolet town, past winners of the derby, had said that Warren's banquet was on a par with the banquet held in Akron, which is fine praise for the Auxiliary.

George Newman, Jr., Warren's champion, thanked the Jaycees committee in charge for the race and added that it was one of the best races he had ever participated in, and also thanked the Times-Mirror and Dan's Chevrolet for making it possible. The champion said that the Warren boys showed remarkably good sportsmanship, and that he would do his level best to bring something back from Akron in the way of a prize.

Mr. Newman, the champ's father, remarked how well the race in Warren had been run, and said he hoped the race would be continued in the future.

Borough Acts To Secure Aid From the State

In a 20-minute Warren Borough Council session early this afternoon, councilmen approved two resolutions which assure Warren of receiving state aid for emergency clearance of Glade and Indian Hollow Runs.

The resolutions were necessary as borough councils must sponsor action in which state funds are used. Expenditures and rights-of-way must be provided.

Don Schuler, former Commissioners Clerk, is out today requesting property owners along the stream banks to sign rights of entry for the state-sponsored project.

At the Council meeting, which began at 12:45 p. m., Borough Manager George Geracimos reported borough workmen had yesterday stopped work clearing the streams when state aid became probable. Besides the use of borough workmen on the project, he estimated about $1,000 worth of equipment had been rented for the job.

Geracimos said about one-third of the clearance project had already been completed.

W. S. Dalzell, assistant engineer from Bradford office of Department of Forests and Waters, told Councilmen at the meeting that he had at

Supporters of Harriman Say He Is Gaining

By The Associated Press
Supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman maintained today their entry in the Democratic presidential nomination race is gathering speed and threatening to catch front-running Adlai Stevenson.

The Stevenson camp disputes that, and a preliminary survey by The Associated Press showed Stevenson still leads Harriman in convention delegates willing to indicate first-ballot preferences 430½ to 160.

The survey is based in part on the effect of the withdrawal from contention of Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Social Security Bill Signed by President Makes Thousands Eligible for the Pension Plan

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C., reminds that women between the ages of 62 and 65 and an estimated 340,000 disabled persons and others aged 50 and over were made eligible for new Social Security benefits effective Wednesday, when President Eisenhower signed, with some expressed reservations, a bill to lower the retirement age for women. It also sets up for the first time a system of federal payments to workers totally and permanently disabled at age 50 and above.

The new benefits for women will be reflected in December checks. An estimated 200,000 widows will become eligible for full benefits at 62. Working women and wives of retired workers may elect to draw somewhat reduced benefits at 62 or wait for full benefits at 65. Officials have estimated that about 300,000 in each category will choose the lowered retirement age.

Benefits for the disabled, estimated to average $75 monthly, will not begin until July 1957. To be eligible for payments, a worker must have been disabled for at least three months and meet strict medical tests.

Eisenhower did not mention it, but these two provisions were sponsored by Democrats in Congress and were met with what the President called "serious reservations in their initial form." Both were modified, Eisenhower noted, "and now meet, in part, some of the administration's objections."

To pay for the new benefits, Social Security taxes will go up next Jan. 1, but, as Eisenhower noted with pleasure, only half as much as was originally proposed. The tax, levied on the first $4,200 of a worker's annual earnings, will go up from the present 2 to 2 1/2 per cent on both workers and employers. The self-employed, now paying 3 per cent, will pay 3 1/2 per cent.

Another provision of the new law, which the administration supported, blankets into the Social Security system an estimated 225,000 persons not heretofore included.

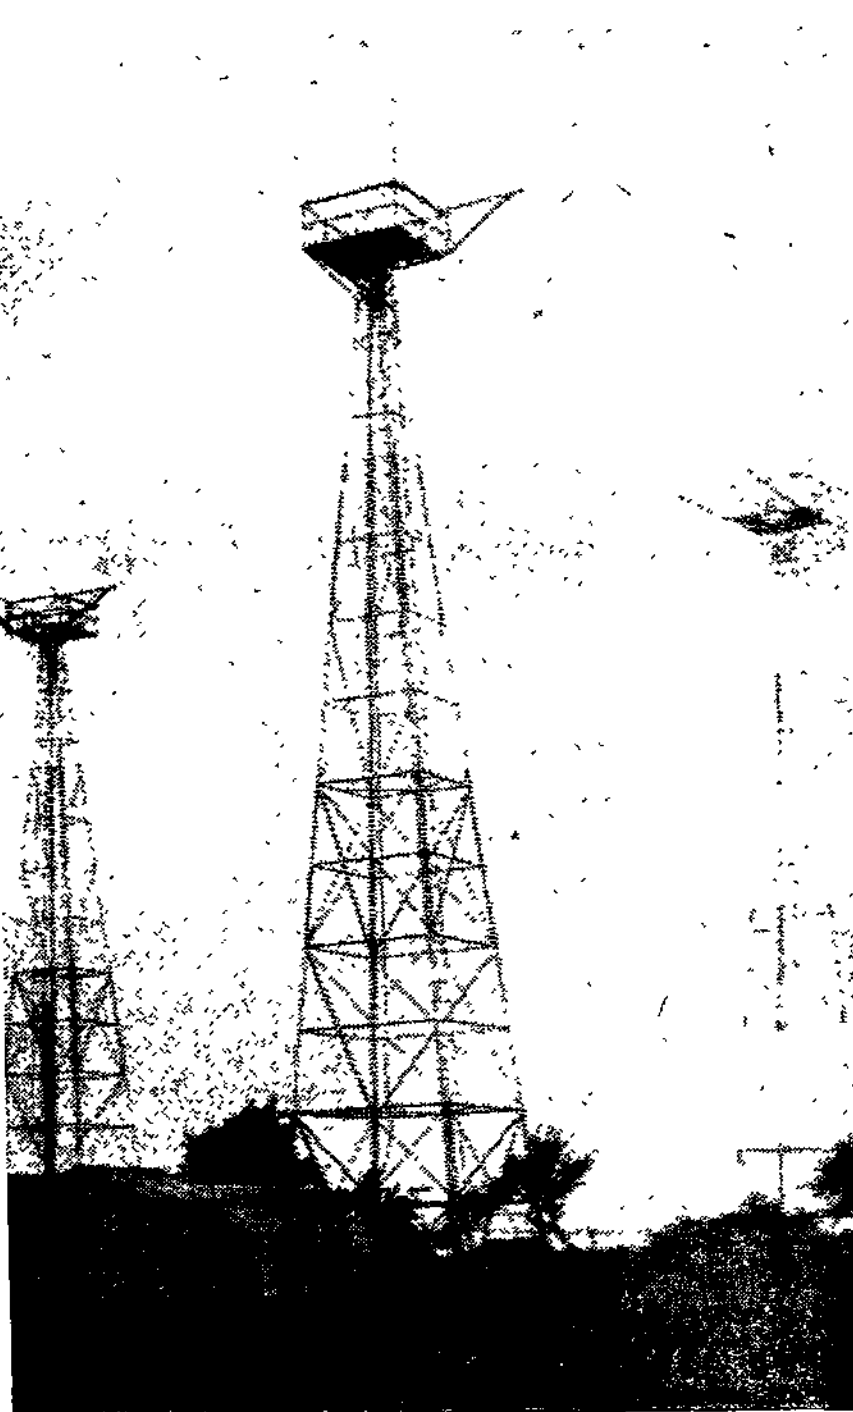

They include lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, optometrists and some related professions but not physicians — the only major group other than government workers not now covered.

REMOTE FOR CLEVELAND—Three new 75-foot towers grace the clean, clear skies near Hearts Content as the Civil Aeronautics Administration completed work on a remote voice control station for Cleveland Airport. The station, wired directly to the Airport, will help reduce the uncertainties of air travel as direct voice communication will be possible from a technician who is watching the airplane's progress on radar screens in Cleveland. Electronic equipment, stored in Bradford, is ready to be installed once the coaxial cable is completed. Victor Scaperoth is CAA official in charge of the project. He recently completed another plant in Elk Mountain but this one is expected to be ready for operation first as CAA is pushing the project. Servicemen Come Under New Social Security Act

According to the bill signed yesterday in Washington starting January 11th all Servicemen will come under the Social Security system and benefits will be increased for many survivors of persons who die on active military duty, or as a result of such service. Signing legislation authorizing this program, President Eisenhower said that "for the first time in many years Congress has given a measure of financial security to the families of our soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines . . ."

The bill—aimed in part at making the military service more attractive as a career—ranked high on Eisenhower's legislative program.

Many States Turn Back Part Of Supplies of Polio Vaccine

Washington (AP) — The Public Health Service has announced that 17 states have turned back part of previously allocated supplies of Salk polio vaccine.

In addition, 7 of the 17 waived their right to share in a new re-release today of 3,137,922 doses. The service said this enabled "states where demand is still high to receive larger amounts."

Secretary of Welfare Folsom and Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele of the health service have been urging maximum use of the vaccine as it becomes available.

However, a total of 2,431,035 doses previously allocated to them were turned back unused by the following states:

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia.

The seven states which also waived their rights to a total of 728,244 doses from the new release were:

Kentucky, Maryland, West Virginia, Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama and South Carolina.

In Harrisburg, Dr. William

Erie Man Suggests Capping of Penn'a Gas Company Wells

Schrack, who supervises Pennsylvania's polio program, reported that state had 639,000 doses in commercial channels "for which there is no market."

"Rather than turn it away from the state, we are purchasing it for supplying clinics and to meet contingencies," Dr. Schrack said.

He said Pennsylvania is buying 301,000 doses and releasing the rest for use at the discretion of physicians.

State and territories other than the seven waiving their allocations were allotted 5,564,097 doses of the new and reallocated vaccine. The remaining 4,860 doses were licensed for export.

Altogether, the states and territories have been allocated 67,800,367 doses of the 82,186,382 released since the vaccine was licensed April 12, 1955.

A check of health service records showed that at least 32 states and other areas have now extended the vaccine priority age group to cover persons through 19 years of age.

The service said available information indicates that the tightest supply situation currently is in New England, New York and New Jersey.

Count Shows Increase in Use Of the Delaware River Bridge

Harrisburg, (AP)—Latest traffic counts by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission show steadily increasing use of the new Delaware River Bridge connecting Pennsylvania and New Jersey superhighways.

A report presented to the commission yesterday placed the mid-July use of the 25-million-dollar span at about 70 per cent of the 14,000 vehicles a day estimate by consulting engineers.

"We are now getting an average of about 10,000 a day but to maintain that we must get 18,000 to 19,000 over the weekends," said Chairman G. Franklin McSorley. The bridge was opened May 25.

The report said that each two-week period checked showed a steady upgrade in the number of vehicles traveling eastward. During the first week of operation the average was 3,600 from Pennsylvania to New Jersey and 4,900 from New Jersey to Pennsylvania.

"New Jersey's figure has been fairly constant but ours is going up slowly," McSorley said.

"However, the truck traffic is very disappointing," he added.

"We've never had any more than 230 trucks in any one period. The heavy truck are a complete loss. The average is only for a week. In fact, we get more of these coming into Pennsylvania from New Jersey, about twice as many on the average."

The chairman further described the truck figures as "very, very disappointing and way below estimates."

Failure of actual use of the Delaware River Extension to meet advance estimates led to the present financial difficulties and proposed toll changes.

The bridge was the last link of the 33-mile Delaware River Extension starting at Valley Forge, outside Philadelphia.

The new figures are the first encouraging words the commission has had on use of the new section.

New Regulations On Storing of Liquid Gas Are Outlined

For the first time in history, Pennsylvania today has a set of regulations providing for the storage and distribution of liquefied petroleum gas, John R. Torquato, Secretary of Labor and Industry, announced yesterday (Thursday). The regulations become effective September 1.

The regulations are the result of intensive investigation and hearings held by the department. They were approved yesterday by unanimous action of the department's industrial board.

"I believe that many accidents will be prevented by the new regulations," Torquato declared. "They are the result of intensive study by experts and a public hearing attended by more than 400 persons, including industrial leaders, fire chiefs, and safety committees. Although some objections were entered at the hearing, in the main, industry has agreed to the new regulations."

The regulations, experts assert, while patterned after National standards are an improvement over these rulings. Torquato pointed out that a law passed by the Legislature during the Fine Administration provided that the Department of Labor and Industry should draft proper regulations covering the control of the storage and distribution of liquefied gas, containers and other equipment.

"However, nothing was done by the Department of Labor and Industry under the Fine Administration, to set up proper regulations in accordance with the law," Torquato said. "When the Leader Administration assumed office I immediately took steps to establish these regulations covering petroleum liquefied fuels as I realized human life and property were involved. I believe the regulations will serve as a means of preventing accidents in the use of liquefied petroleum gas in the future."

TRANSFORMATION OF VALLEY

Says The Salamanca Republican Press:
The transformation which would be wrought in the Allegany River valley between Salamanca and Warren by the Kinzua Dam-Allegheny Reservoir project becomes more apparent as additional details of Army Engineer plans are disclosed.

Much new information regarding the project resulted from an informal conference between Army Engineers and the Seneca Indians held at the Jimmerson town courthouse on July 21st. An extensive report of this conference was published in our news columns on July 23. Now comes the disclosure that the Engineers' plans call for relocating Route 17 between Salamanca and Steamburg.

R-17 is the main east-west highway through New York State's Southern Tier. Albany reports have indicated that the state intends ultimately to make this a four-lane highway from the New York metropolitan area to Westfield, where it will connect with that section of the New York Thruway from Buffalo to the Pennsylvania state line near Erie. The new bridge over the river in Salamanca and the reconstruction of Clinton and Broad streets as part of the arterial highway system, are included in this program.

R-17 now crosses the river at Red House. The lower Red House valley and the bridge are within the area that would be subject to flooding part of the year if a dam is constructed below Kinzua to create the Allegheny Reservoir as proposed. Hence the decision to relocate R-17 west of Salamanca.

On the new location, it would be on higher ground near the base of the hills between Salamanca and Red House, and between Red House and Coldspring. At Coldspring, where the banks on one side are high, a new bridge is to be built to carry R-17 across and connect with the present highway east of Steamburg.

Last winter the fact became known that the New York State Public Works Department had plans for relocating R-17 from Poland Centre, a few miles west of Kennedy, to a point a short distance west of Steamburg. The new route would be shorter than the present one, and would bypass Kennedy, Randolph and East Randolph, and be devoid of railroad crossings east of Kennedy. The present overhead crossing west of Steamburg has long been criticised as narrow and dangerous, and has been the scene of several accidents or near accidents.

Relocation of R-17 between Salamanca and Steamburg is only one of many highway changes that will be necessary in connection with the Kinzua Dam-Allegheny Reservoir project. This applies both to highways in the valley of the Allegany, on the reservation, and those in the valleys of tributary streams mostly outside the reservation. The lower reaches of numerous tributary streams will be flooded permanently, or for parts of the year, or be subject to flooding at extreme high water. Some of these roads will be abandoned, and relocations made elsewhere. Others doubtless will remain open for public use during a large part of the year.

It will be a very different Allegany valley after the dam is built and backs up the runoff from the huge Allegheny watershed.

It will be good news to residents of the stricken areas to learn that Warren county's representatives in the state legislature, Senator L. E. Chapman and Assemblyman A. M. Gibson, have an appointment tomorrow afternoon with Maurice K. Goddard, Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, to discuss possibility of state aid in providing such remedial improvements in the Conewango and Glade districts as would help alleviate danger of damage from flash floods such as hit the borough last Thursday.

Our Soap Box Derby Champion, 15-year-old George Newman, of Greenhurst, N. Y., made a big hit with Kiwanians at the weekly noon-day luncheon Wednesday. He has the best wishes of all for success in the Derby at Akron August 12th.

Motorists generally will learn with gratification that the Public Utility Commission has ordered safeguards erected at the McKinney crossing east of Youngsville.

Here and There

Presence of the Benson Bros. after night despite the fact that they have to stand up during the entire evening they seem never to grow tired. The meetings generally open with a talk by Dr. Oren Charley, who explains the merits of the medicine, the manner in which they operate upon the human system, interlarding his speech with personal anecdotes, stories and bits of history which hold the attention of his audience for an hour or more. Dr. Charley is a handsome fellow with long wavy brown hair, a fine silken mustache, and a clear strong voice, which he uses without apparent effort and which can be plainly heard to the outskirts of the vast throngs that turn out to hear him. He is also a fine singer and favors the audiences with well rendered ballads, accompanying himself with the guitar. At the close of the doctor's address the medicine is offered for sale with good results generally, and then the evening closes with a variety of entertainment superior in merit to many of those which our people are charged a good round price to see. Some of the exhibitions are given up mainly to musical numbers while at other times character sketches, farces and comedies hold the boards. A party of genuine Warm Spring Indians also add interest to the occasion by their antics.

Voice of America Adopts TV as a Useful Weapon

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—(NEA)—Voice of America is going in for television in a big way. Five years ago there were only seven countries offering their people TV. Today there are 29, with 150 TV broadcasting stations and an audience of around 40 million viewers, increasing daily. Robert E. Button, new chief of the U.S. Information Agency's international broadcasting, had 16 years of commercial radio and TV experience before entering government service. For the past year he has been deputy director of VOA and has helped build up its TV programming. It will show a 400 per cent increase this year over last.

In the past six months some 450 TV programs have been put on film. About 10 per cent were original productions. Others were newsreels, special events, documentaries, and "how to do it" educational programs prepared for International Cooperation Administration, which is in charge of technical assistance for newly developed countries.

THE NEWSREEL shows are prepared in three editions for Europe, Latin America, Near and Far East. Sometimes the films are sent out with script for sound to be dubbed in by native language announcers under close monitoring. Most successful of the USA-TV programs has been the "Report on America" series of half-hour, once-a-month shows. It presents Americans in their everyday life. They're human beings with the same problems as other people all over the world. Introduced in Britain, it is now being put into French, Italian, Spanish for Latin America and Portuguese for Brazil.

The opportunity to reach more people, faster, for educational TV is to be exploited to the maximum.

AMERICAN COMMERCIAL radio and television industries are giving USA full non-profit cooperation in all these productions. In return, it has been found that Voice of America programs are developing big markets for U.S. products abroad.

Export record sales have boomed since VOA began broadcasting jazz and popular music shows. Two record companies have offered to buy time on VOA, but it can't be sold. Radio is still 75 per cent of the Voice of America, however, because that's the medium that can jump the Iron Curtain. Button thinks there may be a new era for VOA radio just ahead. He thinks the Curtain may become a Venetian Blind.

Soviet Russia lifted the jamming of British Broadcasting Corp. Russian-language programs during the Bulgarian-Khrushchev visit to England and hasn't put it back on. The satellites still jam everything.

"BUT THERE'S something going on," says Button. "If the Russians would stop jamming Voice of America broadcasts and VOA could start competing freely for the attention of Communist listeners, it might be possible to plant some very explosive seeds. There's a big interest in America and a growing skepticism about communism in all these countries."

One new-type program VOA will introduce this fall will be beamed at Hungary, Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia. It will be a husband and wife team, breakfast conversation show. They will discuss the day's news pro and con. It will demonstrate the freedom of wide open argument in a typical American family, where there is no fear of anyone listening in and reporting what is said to the secret police.

All men aren't clock-watchers, agrees the Dighton (Kans.) Herald—some are whistle-listeners.

Like Minnesota, Iowa also has a town of "Fertile" and "Manly", Iowa, is fairly near. One northeastern Iowa newspaper headlined a society item thusly: "Manly Youth Weds Fertile Girl."

One reader of the Indio (Calif.) Date Palm wrote in to complain that the bi-weekly has a disturbing delivery system: "Every Monday and Thursday afternoon I go out and look all over my front yard, behind bushes, in the flower beds, atop the roof, and where do I find the paper? Neatly rolled and right in front of the door. I step over it to go out and find it! That kind of delivery has taken all the fun out of getting the newspaper home-delivered!"

No matter how masculine a fellow may be, muses Charles Dwelley in the Concrete (Wash.) Herald, you'll find he always has a soft spot in his head for the weaker sex.

Selfish, Indifferent Mates Create Demanding Wives

WE hear a lot these days about dissatisfied wives whose husbands work themselves into an early grave trying to give their wives more and more of the things money can buy.

Always it's the women who get the blame for this sad state of affairs.

But are they?

Why are there so many dissatisfied wives killing off their husbands in an endless struggle to keep up with the neighbors and get ahead of their friends?

Could it be that wives are dissatisfied because their husbands are giving them so little of what it takes to make a woman feel happy, needed, loved, and protected?

How many husbands today bother to listen to a woman's small talk about her day and its problems?

How many husbands express their appreciation for a well-run home, a wife who is doing her best to bring up their children right, attempting to play a part in community affairs and be companionable to her husband?

Don't a great many husbands take all this for granted and even talk big about how little women have to do these days?

THE HUSBAND IS RESPONSIBLE

HOW many husbands today have a protective manner toward their wives or ever give their wives a chance to lean on their strength?

How many husbands bother to make their wives feel secure in their love?

How many are there among today's husbands who aren't ashamed to let their wives and the world know how important their wives are to them?

When so many men give so little to marriage, it is no wonder the country is full of unhappy, dissatisfied wives.

Behind most dissatisfied, unhappy, demanding wives there are arrogant, indifferent or selfish husbands.

But it's the wife who gets the blame, not the husband who is responsible for her dissatisfaction with life and marriage.

Archie Phillips, Mrs. Arnold Jewell and Mrs. William Barrett in charge of one unit; Mrs. Scott Phillips, Mrs. Edwin Branstrom and Mrs. Pat Ferrie, the second.

For the program, recipes were written and exchanged, and a reading on diets was given. These were followed by a plastics demonstration.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Prettymann, served refreshments at the conclusion of the evening.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Jewell, with Mrs. Everett Webster and Mrs. Glen Peterson assisting for a wiener roast.

EIGHT AND FORTY ENJOY AN OUTING

Warren County Salon, Eight and Forty, held its July meeting as a picnic at Pine Crest, Mrs. Evelyn Gallor's summer home at Saybrook, followed by a business session. Serving on the committee with the hostess were other Sheffield members.

Miss Phyllis Epstein, chapeau, and Mrs. Gallor, secretaire, gave reports of the annual march of Pennsylvania Salon, held in Philadelphia July 16-17, when Mrs. Arthur Lewis was elected new departmental chapeau for the coming year.

A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Donald Dickerson, of Warren County Tuberculosis Society, for assistant of Eight and Forty partners during the visit of the mobile x-ray service in Warren, Sheffield and Youngsville.

Mrs. Dorothy Peterson, Mrs. Florence Mounier, Mrs. Ruth Howarth and Miss Emma Christian conducted a very enjoyable "wreck" in which new members were initiated into the fun and fellowship of the organization.

Maturity Ways to Stay Cool

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

AS the hot weather moves its furniture in for a long lease, many mature women wonder what they can do to stay cooler.

Peeling down to shorts and a halter is out for many women because they look just too strange. Spending days at the pool or beach is out for those who have housework to do. Days spent in air-cooled movies are impractical on the face of it.

Some women whose skin and shape absolutely rule out any reduction in clothes might investigate the clothing or household frivolities budget for the possibility of a room air conditioner. It's nothing to wear out into the street, granted, but a variety of tests has shown that efficiency and health are both aided in comfortable, artificial cool. And if one lacks for neighborly visits, an air conditioner is a great social aid.

All dresses bought in the first flush of nylon ought to be stored until fall. Even a sheer nylon dress is hotter than a heavy dress of a fabric that is absorbent. The same goes for underclothes.

Heels of comfortable height can keep ankles and feet from swelling. This contributes to a feeling of being cool. Sandals may not be right on a mature woman, but there are many low and flat-heeled styles that are suitable.

METHODIST HOME NOTES

Margaret H. McBride

July 29—The Missionary Training School at Allegheny College has made a remarkable impression on the region this past few weeks, and we have had the pleasure of meeting a number of students as well as visitors to the sessions. Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones, and their two boys had dinner with us, one Sunday, and this past Sabbath Rev. Jones offered his services in replacing Rev. George Braun at our Chapel when the latter was preaching at Clarion. He gave us a splendid sermon, and was thoroughly liked. He is leaving Aug. 23 for Kindu, Belgian Congo. At the Chapel service, Mrs. S. H. Barlett and Mrs. Loda Hutchinson gave a duet which was lovely, with Mr. Will Ray at the piano.

Miss Harriet Koch had an old friend from Oil City drop in to see her one day who was attending the Missionary School, Miss Mabel Richardson. Miss Koch is at the table again, somewhat improved from a recent upset. Mrs. Minnie Graham has had visitors from Conneaut Lake, Miss Martha McClure and her mother, and Miss Doris May Isem, and from the same area, Mrs. Flora Hopson had a caller who was an old friend of Conneautville days, Miss Alice Townsend, of Conneaut Lake Park, who spent an afternoon with her. Graham's son Donald and his wife, of Sharon, were here to visit his mother, and with them were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pope. The four had been enjoying a few days' treat at Chautauqua. The latter two also called on Mrs. Rose Thompson, whose two nieces, Misses Olive and Myra Oakes, were Sunday visitors too. Mr. Arthur Doan of Meadville, brought Miss Carlotta Ellis to visit Miss Lou

Ray that afternoon, and while those two were talking over old times, he gave "Aunt Rose" a long ride, along with her two nieces. Miss Ellis also called on the Will Roberts, who were friends of former years, and who had just got home here from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Christey, who came from Kinsman, O. last Tuesday and took them home with them. Other friends who dropped in on the Roberts were Mr. John Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hahn, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Demmeling, from Erie. Mrs. Augusta Frampton and her sister, Miss Martha Elbel had as guests last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Moreland of Jamestown, and Thursday Mrs. Edna Berkshire of Meadville called, while Sunday last their niece from Slippery Rock, Miss Ruby Frampton, spent some time with them. Mrs. Vern Middaugh, from Fredonia, N. Y., who is the mother of Rev. Bruce Middaugh, now pastor of the Stone Church in Meadville, spent several days visiting in the Home the past week. Then Mrs. Homer Stuntz, of Girard, has been staying all week to be with Mrs. Blanche Crothers, who has been an infirm patient for some time, after a stroke she had. I am happy to report that she shows improvement steadily. Mrs. Gertrude Filson is gaining too, and Mrs. Dora Blystone and Mrs. Elsie Hanrahan, both hospitalized recently, have returned to the Home and their own rooms, much better. Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, a sister of Mrs. Blystone, and a niece, Margaret Schlosser, from Saegertown, visited her this week. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodcock of Cochran, came over too. Mrs. Minnie Hostettler continues under the nurses' care, Miss Margaret Scott has made an extraordinary come-back, and Mrs. Margaret Reynolds is in a grave condition, as is Miss Pearl Kiser. Mrs. K. C. Thompson was here, with Mrs. Christine Hercik, from Cleveland, to see Mrs. Filson, Mrs. Crothers and Mrs. Anna Schultz, who were close friends of Mrs. Thompson's daughter, the late Mrs. Stella Stiles.

Saturday visitors included Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McCurdy, from Warren, to see their sister, Mrs. Martha Cornish, and Mrs. Mylo Putnam had Bradford friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Buel, also Mr. and Mrs. Jay Putnam, as recent visitors. Mylo Putnam is recovering slowly from a major operation, is still in the Meadville Hospital.

The few Erie and Greenville golfers who stayed in Warren over the memorable flash flood last Thursday night, played a make-shift match with Warren women, the Northwestern Pennsylvania Women's match having been called off because of storm damage to the course.

With Jupiter Pluvius temporarily eliminating several holes, the course was unique, even to local players. The nine-hole blind bogey was won by Barbara Robinson, Erie, with Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart tying for low putts with Mrs. Victor Weschler, Erie. Miss Ruth Templeton, Greenville, won the 14-hole blind bogey match, and Mrs. J. Van Ryck Miller took the least putts.

Hats

Own Both Big, Tiny

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THE matter of the big hat got a pretty thorough going-over at a recent society wedding. Critics of the young lady's dishpan hat that completely hid her face pointed out that Elizabeth II unfailingly wears a small hat that reveals her whole face to the public.

Women in politics and women who hold gavel over large clubs know this. Their small hats may be found firmly anchored on top of their heads, invisible except for the edge.

This goes back to the old-fashioned principle of the theater hat. Any woman who wears a platter to the theater is going to have to pay the price of unpinning the hat and unsettling the coiffure under it. A tiny hat is the one most women wear to the show or theater.

All of which brings up the often-forgotten point of the time and place for everything. The big hat was in such ascendancy this spring that many women forgot this vital fact.

The big hat is perfect for a day in the sun. At a county fair or a dog trial, it keeps off the sun. A big hat is poor for a day in the wind. In a car or out in the windy open, it's a lot of trouble.

The small hat is good to wear when others must see around or over you. The small hat may keep the hair down in a day of hurry. But the small hat will do you no good when you must be picked out in a crowd. And it may lack spirit at a garden party.

A woman should own both and wear each when appropriate.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Charles W. Evans, Hamilton Square, N. J., and little Miss Donna Steiner, Hornell, N. Y. Mrs. Evans is a charter member of the organization, her husband having been first president of the Ludlow Community Association, better known as Wildcat Park.

Coffee was served from an attractive table by Ethelyn Connelly, Mrs. John Fox, Jr., and Mrs. John Begany.

NON-TAXABLE INCOME—Paul Ostrof, nine, wrote a letter to Illinois governor William Stratton enclosing his sales tax payment of four cents on his gross earnings of $1.20. Paul, from Chicago, explained in his letter that he has a profitable monopoly on shining shoes around the Ostrof household, and figured he owed the state some money. Revenue officials ruled Paul's income non-taxable and returned the four cents.

Atomic Bombing Capabilities Steal Spot in Electronic Race

Washington (AP)—The current accent on supersonic speeds and atomic bombing capabilities of war planes has overshadowed the fight by American military scientists to win an electronic race with the Soviets.

This vital, but less sensational, struggle for superiority was underscored in recently released and heavily censored Navy testimony in the Senate airpower inquiry.

A Senate Armed Services subcommittee heard Senior Navy officials disclose that low flying aircraft have made practice runs 1,000 miles inland from the U. S. coast without being picked up by radar.

Vice Adm. Thomas F. Combs, deputy chief of naval operations, made this disclosure in illustrating how the Navy planned to operate its aircraft carrier task forces in the event of a Third World War. He and other naval officers used this, too, to show the problems of perfecting American defenses.

The Navy officials said high priorities have been given to a wide range of activities in the electronics field. This work, now well under way, is aimed at perfecting and extending the range of radar, as well as at enabling it to spot and track both static and moving targets at all altitudes, they said.

The Navy wants its attack bombers to continue to be able to sneak in low over enemy territory, under defensive radar. But the Navy also wants to find ways to prevent enemy bombers from making the same kind of approach against American carriers.

One of the high priority projects is designed to improve existing electronic methods of jamming enemy radar. There is also work under way to perfect means of keeping friendly radar from jamming while countering an enemy's efforts to insulate his defensive radar from American jamming.

The Navy officers, for security reasons, were not permitted to disclose for publication just how this electronics war is being waged by American scientists.

But the published report of the hearings did point out the fact that an electronics race is on with the Russians. Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of Naval Research said that "in the Soviet radar field the information available to us is no cause for complacency."

Annual Picnic for T.M. Carrier Boys Saturday

About 65 Warren Times-Mirror carrier boys will be treated at their annual whiling-ding Saturday afternoon at Marconi Outing Club.

Location of the picnic has been changed this year due to extensive flood damage which has not yet been repaired at Cinderella Lake.

High spot of the afternoon of waterfront activity, games and contests, will be awarding of prizes to the lucky non-competitive winner.

A fifty-dollar bill is top prize, with a radio and other valuables given other drawees.

Howard Clark, Times-Mirror circulation manager, is in charge of the affair. A dinner prepared by Lewis Catering will climax the festivities.

Derby Champ Makes Big Hit at Warren Kiwanis Meeting

Jaycee Chairman Dick Cook again reminds all boys who actually raced in Warren's First Soap Box Derby to contact him as soon as possible, either by phone, Warren 2589, or by mailing a postcard to him at 412 West Fifth avenue, in order to make arrangements for the trip to Akron, O., where the National Soap Box Derby will be held August 12th.

Mr. Cook says a number of parents have indicated they might like to see the races, and any who would like to drive a car load of boys to Akron August 12 are urged to contact him immediately.

All persons interested are advised that tickets are available in very limited amounts to any other interested individuals who might wish to go to Akron for the event. Those making the trip should plan to pack a box lunch for their boy and see that he has enough money with him for the evening meal and other refreshments he will desire during the day. The caravan will leave Warren at six o'clock Sunday morning, August 12, and should return late that evening.

The trip to Akron is being arranged as a reward for the exceptionally fine job the local boys did in constructing their racers as an added incentive to the boys who finished their racers. Also, the trip should prove to be of tremendous assistance to the boys in planning for their next year's racers. These boys will be seeing the best from all over the world and should bring back many fine ideas.

The older youth picked up his teenage companion later on and they headed for Buffalo, N. Y. From there they drove to Ohio.

YOUNG CAR THIEVES

Titusville Herald: The tri-state trip of two district teenagers in a stolen car ended yesterday in Oil City for both, but one still has some traveling to do—to George Junior Republic. The pair, who were apprehended Tuesday in Monroeville, O., after they had fled from a service station without paying for gas, were brought back by Oil City police officers. The oldest of the youths, a 16-year-old Titusville boy, who had been living recently at the Titusville, RD 3, home of his companion, is scheduled to be sent to George Junior Republic in Grove City, according to Oil City Chief Philip Cheles. He was on probation for a 1955 vandalism charge. His companion, 13, was released to the custody of his parents, who are also the grandparents of the older boy. Both youths blamed their conduct on poor home conditions. The 16-year-old admitted to the chief that he had stolen the car of Samuel L. Kerr of 414 Cowell Ave., Oil City, Monday around 9 a. m. The ignition switch of the car was in an unlocked position.

The older youth picked up his teenage companion later on and they headed for Buffalo, N. Y. From there they drove to Ohio.

Ruling on Highway Dep't Authority Is Rather Confusing

Harrisburg (AP)—The chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has left open for speculation the matter of how to implement a Justice Department ruling giving many commission powers to the State Highways Department.

"There has been no final decision as to the manner in which the opinion would be implemented," G. Franklin McSorley said yesterday in disclosing he had conferred with Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen about the formal opinion.

Cohen two weeks ago, at the request of the State Highways Department, ruled that the department must take over commission functions "including maintenance work and approval of construction contracts."

McSorley, in giving his account of the meeting with Cohen, gave the first indication the commission plans to abide by the Cohen ruling and not contest it in court.

McSorley issued a statement in which he blamed previous Republican state administrations for the failure to entrust certain of the functions to the Highways Department.

"Previous administrations have clearly ignored the law which indicates that the Department of Highways should approve Turnpike construction contracts," McSorley said in a statement.

POLK MYSTERY

The identity of the eight-year-old mentally retarded boy who was left at the Polk State School still is a mystery—almost three weeks after he was abandoned. Trooper Kenneth McCoy of the Lawrence Park substation, in charge of the investigation, said no word had been received by police or school officials as to the boy's identity.

Trooper McCoy, who just returned yesterday after three days in Harrisburg on another case, theorized that the person who abandoned the blond child might reside at a more distant locality than first anticipated.

A note left with the boy on July 17, apparently from his mother, said money orders would be sent for his support from Niles, O. Trooper McCoy, however, said all leads checked thus far have proven futile. The person who wrote the note said she was an out-of-state woman whose husband had deserted her. She dramatically signed the note, "Please love my baby."

Chicken and Fresh Vegetables Will Fill Market Basket For Price-Conscious Housewives

By The Associated Press

Chicken and a bountiful supply of fresh summer vegetables will fill the market basket of many price-conscious housewives this weekend.

In supermarkets and grocery stores across the country, chicken again this week holds on to its summer popularity as the meat most widely listed on special sale.

Fish is also being emphasized in a number of communities, especially along the East Coast, where shoppers will find fresh cod, haddock and swordfish, and in inland lake regions. A midwest special in a number of stores is lake perch.

Beef steaks and rib roasts command higher prices this week in most of the country, reflecting a continued rise in wholesale prices. Cheaper beef cuts, such as chuck and pot roasts, are being featured, however, as weekend specials in many markets.

The summer vegetable crop has brought a wide range of outstanding buys. These include green and yellow squash, which are priced very low in some areas, and cabbage, in red, green and savory varieties. Other low-priced vegetables, generally produced on local farms, are beets, escarole, snap beans, green onions and radishes.

Tomatoes grown locally are also coming to the market as outstanding buys, according to government produce experts, but there is quite a range in quality and size.

Considered good buys are carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, peppers, and corn.

Onion and potato prices continue to ease as eastern and northern farmers ship early crops to the market, but prices are still well above last year's. Many of the locally grown potatoes are also of small size.

Limes remain in abundant supply and are generally the only fruit available as an outstanding buy. Good buys include such summer specials as watermelons, blueberries, and plums.

Early cooking apples are coming in larger volume in most areas now and prices are getting close to the good buy level. Peaches are also in better supply but in some wholesale markets prices were a little higher than this week for quality fruit.

Warners Planning To Discontinue News Reel

New York (AP)—Warner News Inc. has announced that Warner-Pathe, the newsreel service, founded in 1900 by Charles Pathe, will be discontinued on Aug. 23.

The service has been operated for the past nine years by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

The company said in a statement that negotiations were under way with "several highly interested buyers" for sale of the large library of newsreel footage accumulated over the years.

Discontinuance of the newsreel service is the latest in a series of changes in the economic structure of Warner Brothers Pictures Inc.

Medic Mental Patient After Vaccine Switch

Aarhus, Denmark (AP)—Dr. Karl Stevad, 43, was committed to a mental hospital yesterday upon a complaint that he used the wrong vaccine to inoculate 372 patients seeking immunity from polio.

Health authorities said Dr. Stevad admitted he injected anti-diphtheria vaccine into them, turning to that vaccine when his supply of polio vaccine ran out.

The case came to light when one of the patients asked the advice of another physician on a sudden swelling caused by the injection. All the patients have been advised to seek new polio inoculations.

The Board of Health sought to determine whether the switch might have been made because the anti-diphtheria vaccine is cheaper. Authorities said Dr. Stevad, an expert in vaccination, suffered a nervous breakdown a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sliter were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sliter, Guys Mills; Mrs. Lillian Whiteley, Corry.

State Police Have Mystery in Shell Found Along Lake

Erie—State police are puzzled as to how a live 85-pound artillery shell was placed on a beach near North East.

The shell, if detonated, was capable of killing anyone within a 3,000 foot radius, troopers said.

The shell was found on a beach near cottages operated by the Dohler Farm and Cottages at RD 1, North East, by one of the residents shortly after daybreak Sunday.

A heavy guard was placed around the mysterious shell to prevent anyone from causing an explosion.

Sgt. John A. Doll, of the 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, who is on the demolition detail, was rushed to the scene.

After examining the shell, Sgt. Doll advised the troopers that the shell would have to be hauled out into Lake Erie and then dumped out.

Trooper Edward Nagasky, Sgt. Doll and another trooper cautiously placed the shell on an inboard motor boat and hauled it at least two miles into Lake Erie and tossed it to the muddy bottom.

State police questioned residents along the beach but were unable to pick up any information. It is believed the shell was hauled to the beach in a car and dumped out on the sandy beach.

Police advance a theory that it could have been stolen from an ordnance plant by an Erie resident who became panicky when he learned that the shell could cause a great deal of damage if accidentally exploded.

Police doubt it could have been dropped from a plane. It was found lying flat on the sand. It is believed the shell was brought to the beach early Sunday.

State Development Authority Planning To Aid Communities To Fight "Economic Disaster"

Harrisburg (AP)—The State Industrial Development Authority—first such organization in Pennsylvania—indicated today it would loan money "on a geographic basis" for communities to fight economic disaster.

The ten-member agency allowed less than an hour to pass after it was inaugurated yesterday before giving consideration to informal requests for more than $1 million dollars in loans from its $1 million dollar fund.

William R. Davlin, commerce secretary and a member of the authority, said the group has indicated "it will take steps through allocation of loan funds on a geographical basis."

The secretary said the board probably would follow the geographic pattern unless a shortage of loan funds threatened to deprive specific communities and areas of loan benefits under the program. The authority is designed to attract new industry into Pennsylvania's distressed areas.

The agency was authorized by the last legislature to distribute the 5 millions for industrial development on the basis of loans up to 30 per cent of the cost of any one project with local authorities and banks making up the remaining 70 per cent.

Five informal requests for loans were received shortly after the group became officially activated.

Davlin said the requests were in the form of "informal-pre-application loan requests" and that "formal requests are planned to be submitted formally immediately."

The requests came from: Pine Grove, Schuylkill County—$360,000; Altoona—$80,000; Lehigh—$37,500; Sunbury—$37,500 and Wyalusing, Bradford County—$55,800.

Health Department Reports a Big Drop in Polio in State

Harrisburg, Pa. — The State Health Department has reported 31 cases of polio in Pennsylvania during the first half of 1956, a big drop from the same period last year.

The total recorded up to last Thursday, compares with 105 at the same date last year and 79 on July 12, 1954.

However, Dr. William D. Schrack Jr., director of the Health Department's Communicable Disease Control Division, said it is still too early to determine how severe or mild the 1956 "polio season" will be.

"It is too early to determine the significances of these figures," he said.

"Our past experience shows that 10 per cent of the year's cases are reported by the end of July. Then 80 per cent are reported during August, September and October. The remaining 10 per cent are reported during the last two months of the year."

Dr. Schrack estimated it won't be until the middle of next month that the department will be able to tell what the year will be like.

National statistics for the first six months of the year show the incidence running about 50 per cent behind last year.

For the week of July 5-12 three cases were reported to the state department. During a comparable week of 1954 there were half a dozen cases reported.

There were 786 cases in Pennsylvania in 1955. The 1954 total was 1,549. The worst year for Pennsylvania in recent history was 1952 when more than 1,900 cases were recorded. July 12 of that year the total was 47.

Schrack emphasized "there is still time to gain protection by immunization before the high incidence period of July-August-September arrives."

He said that plenty of vaccine is available through commercial channels.

"We hope that a good number of persons in the eligible age group 1-19 will receive shots before we get into the highest incidence period."

Picnic Favorite—On your next picnic, take along some carrot and celery strips in a plastic bag surrounded by ice cubes. It's surprising how the family goes for this finger food, reports Marguerite L. Duvall, Penn State extension family life specialist.

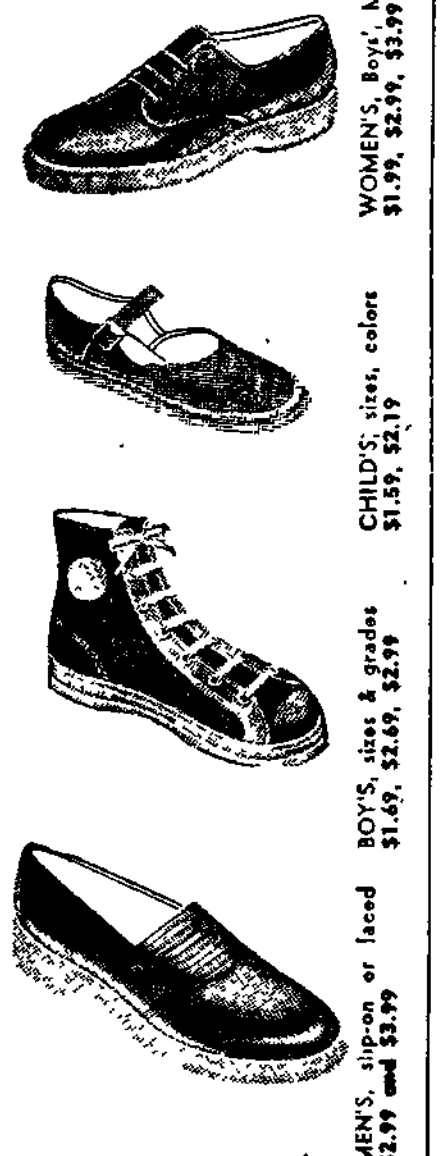

Look Larger—Cool and light colors give a feeling of more space and are used to make small, dark rooms appear larger, Bonnie Dale Sansom, Penn State extension home furnishings specialist, says.

Measure Level — Standard recipes use level measurements, so for best results, fill cup of the dry ingredients and level with a flat-edged knife, Marjorie J. Wormeck, Penn State extension nutritionist, advises.

Survey Shows Many on Relief Dislike New Experiment Plan

Harrisburg (AP) — A new study showed today that most persons on relief taking part in a special experiment dislike receiving medical assistance by direct payments of money.

The survey, by the public assistance department, reviewed results of experimental programs in Potter, Snyder and Tioga counties which provided cash allowances for medical care.

Since 1938 the department paid physicians for medical care rendered relief recipients. Three months ago, under federal supervision, the department inaugurated a new insurance-type "pooled medical fund" program by ending the experiment in the three counties.

"There was interest in knowing how the recipients in the three experimental counties like the program of cash allowances for medical care as opposed to the invoice method," Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horton, department secretary said. So questionnaires were mailed all 1,787 persons on relief rolls in the three counties. The cash payment plans, although varying slightly in all three cases, have been in effect 2 1/2 years in Snyder county, 1 1/2 years in Potter and 1 year in Tioga.

All three plans raised strong general objections from various medical and hospital organizations. The experiment placed the responsibility of making medical payments upon those persons receiving relief since they were given cash. Practitioner groups protested that the allowance was inadequate.

More than 80 per cent of the questionnaires were returned and of those expressing an opinion between the two payments methods 73 per cent said they would rather have the care provided the old way, through payments to doctors. Twenty-eight per cent preferred the cash-payment idea.

The Tioga county where the cash allowance for medical care was based upon the number of persons in the assisted family ranging from $4 a month to $1 per person per month if 9 or more in family only 16 per cent of the recipients favored the cash plan. More than four times as many preferred the old method.

The Snyder County plan provided a direct $1 a month allowance for each person on relief and an additional $5 a month for long term illness. Questionnaires from this county indicated 32 per cent liked the idea, 54 per cent favored the old plan and 14 per cent expressed no preference.

The Potter County figures showed 35 per cent like the experiment, 54 per cent were against it and 11 had no preference.

Switch in Men and Parties Is Highlight of 1956 Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
Washington (AP) — What a switch in men and parties!

Ten days ago, so far as is known, Harold E. Stassen and Senator Estes Kefauver still yearned to move their furniture into the White House. Now Stassen says he has given up the presidency permanently. Kefauver has given up on it this year, at least.

Nine days ago this month's political conventions looked like a picnic for the Republicans, a cat-and-dog fight for the Democrats. Now the opposite may be true, thanks to Stassen and Kefauver.

When the sun came up July 23 this was the picture:

1. Stassen, a presidential candidate in every election since 1944, wasn't running this year. He didn't have a chance anyway. President Eisenhower was running. There, was no reason to think Stassen still didn't have the bug for 1960.

Meanwhile, he seemed content with his job as Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament.

2. The Republicans' professional politicians seemed to have everything so neatly arranged that the delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 20, would have trouble finding something to do until the time came to rubber-stamp the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again.

Before sundown July 23 Stassen began talking so loudly and long that the Republican convention may turn into a contest over the vice presidency.

Stassen said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket — he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes — and should step aside in favor of Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency.

Yesterday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture:

A hot convention, opening Aug.

Impact of Taxes on Location Of Industries Will Be Studied

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. Leader today urged a special committee of the Legislature to look into the impact of local taxes as well as state taxes on the location of industry in Pennsylvania.

"There should be a comparative study of Pennsylvania taxes and taxes of surrounding states," the governor said. "Secondly, there should be a thorough inquiry into the amount, incidence, and financial importance of local taxes — as opposed to statewide taxes in each state."

Leader made the request in a letter to Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster) chairman of the Joint State Government Commission, the assembly's research agency.

Leader sent the letter as a commission sub-committee opened hearings on the question of whether state and local taxes are actually affecting industry in Pennsylvania.

Leader asked the sub-committee to give a copy of its findings to a special tax advisory commission he appointed yesterday to draw up a tax program for the 1956 legislature.

Both Republicans and Democrats were named on the tax sub-committee, which arranged to hear prominent industrialists.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said James Symes, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and E. M. Elkins, a tax consultant for Westinghouse Electric, will lead the list as witnesses at the opening of public hearings later in the day.

The PRR and Westinghouse have been critical recently of the commonwealth's tax structure.

Impact of Taxes on Location Of Industries Will Be Studied

"We are going to take all the taxes we have now and see what their impact is on all the people — not just individuals but business in Pennsylvania, too," said Readinger.

The hearings opened just 24 hours after Gov. Leader appointed a special 14-member bipartisan tax study commission with a mandate to make specific tax recommendations to the 1957 legislature.

Both the legislature and the governor have been cognizant that the 1957 assembly will have the tremendous task of raising as much as 250 million dollars in new taxes to meet commitments inherited from previous legislature.

A 3 per cent sales tax was given to Leader in March to raise between 250 millions and 320 millions from coast to coast.

Impact of Taxes on Location Of Industries Will Be Studied by May 31, 1957. But the rate automatically falls to 2 per cent next June 1 unless the next legislature does something to forestall it.

There has been speculation by both Republicans and Democrats that Pennsylvanians may have to pay both a sales tax and an income tax if state costs continue to mount.

Republicans traditionally have favored the sales tax as a general policy. Democrats want a graduated income tax but the constitution would have to be amended — a four-year process — to accomplish this objective.

Leader carefully listed seven Republicans and seven Democrats on his tax study commission in an apparent attempt to lend a bipartisan approach to the problem.

OLD PROS MAGLIE & MITCHELL SPARK DODGERS OVER BRAVES

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Brooklyn's Dodgers are winning the big games again in the National League pennant race, but look who's doing it for 'em—one-time nemesis Sal Maglie and Dale Mitchell, who wasn't even in the league two days ago.

The two old pros were the big guns as the third-place Brooks knocked off Milwaukee again 2-1 last night and moved to within three games of the first-place Braves.

Maglie, 39, needed help and missed his 100th victory, but he was The Barber of old. He calmed the Braves on five hits and left seven runners stranded while protecting a 1-0 lead before running out of gas in the seventh inning.

Mitchell, 35, batted in the winning run with a pinch single in his first appearance since being picked up by the Dodgers from the Cleveland Indians.

The defeat left the Braves with a two-game lead as runner-up Cincinnati dropped a 3-1 decision to New York. The Redlegs had just two singles off Ruben Gomez and Marv Grissom.

St. Louis sent Pittsburgh to a seventh straight defeat 4-1. And a grand-slammer by Willie Jones gave Philadelphia a 10-8 victory over Chicago's Cubs.

In the American, Bob Lemon gained his 14th victory with a six-hitter, stopping New York 3-1 as second-place Cleveland cut the Yankees' runaway lead to eight games. Home runs by Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen gave Boston a 5-4 victory over Detroit. Kansas City defeated Baltimore 9-4. Four runs in the 10th handed Washington a 6-2, decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Brooklyn, with cries that Lew Burdette was throwing spitballs, got to the right-hander for the payoff run in the eighth Jackie Robinson singled, took an extra base on Bobby Thompson's bubble, went to third on a sacrifice and high-tailed it home as Mitchell beat out his bounce to third. Duke Snider, who was 0-for-13, homered for the first Brook run, taking the NL home run lead with 26.

NO PLATE LIKE HOME—Don Hoak of the Chicago Cubs evaded a tag by Gil Hodges when the Brooklyn first baseman took a poor relay from Pete West after Ernie Banks doubled at Ebbets Field. Backing up was Sandy Koufax as Monte Irvin watched.

Pirates' Nosedive Gaining Momentum

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates' most recent nosedive is gaining momentum and without hitting help there appears little hope of halting the downward spiral.

Last night, the St. Louis Cardinals handed the Pirates their seventh straight defeat, 4-1, shoving the Bucs another notch toward the National League cellar.

What the Pirates need, it appears, is another hitter or two to keep pace with Roberto Clemente and Billy Virdon. Clemente kept up his hot hitting pace last night, collecting half the Pirates six safeties.

St. Louis salted the game away in the second inning with two runs on a single, an outfield fly that was misplayed for a triple, and an error by Frank Thomas.

The Pirates scored their only tally in the bottom half of the inning but blew a chance for a big rally with poor baserunning and the lack of a timely hit.

Lee Walls opened the frame with a single and Clement followed on Thomas' sacrifice fly. Dick Cole sent another single to right field but Clement was caught off base while rounding third. That ended the rally.

Willard Schmidt, who now has a 5-8 record, limited the Pirates to just three hits the rest of the way. Ronne Kline gave up 10 hits in the eight innings he worked and was charged with his 11th loss against nine wins.

Rhode Island gets its name from that of an island in Narragansett bay. The state itself is not an island.

Philadelpha (AP)—Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phillies ace righthander, has been off form ever since spring training because of a pulled back muscle. It was disclosed today.

The Philadelphia Bulletin said Roberts told Sports writer Frank Yentzer after Tuesday's game with the Chicago Cubs, that the muscle difficulty made him change his normal style in repeated efforts to avoid the pain involved.

"It's pretty well healed now," Roberts was quoted as saying. "I actually feel fine again. But there for a time the pain was pretty bad. It caused me to make changes in style. I got into some pretty bad habits."

Roberts now has a record of 11 wins and the same number of losses for the season. At this stage of the game last year he had won 16 and lost only 9.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

PITCHING—Ruben Gomez and Marv Grissom, Giants, combined to beat Redlegs 3-1 on two hits, each giving up a single with Gomez leaving the game because of a shoulder injury after doubling and scoring the tie-breaking run in the seventh.

HITTING—Willie Jones, Phillies, unloaded a grand-slam home run to overhaul a one-run Cub lead for a 10-8 victory.

Reds' Problem: Strong Arm Beats a Strong Swing

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (N.Y.)—George Robert Tebbetts has turned in a magnificent job with what little pitching he has in Cincinnati. Without having been one of the smarter catchers, Birdie Tebbetts would know that the Reds can't take it all with not too much more than a lot of blokes belting the ball from Crosley Field to Dayton or thereabouts.

Manager Tebbetts, the post-graduate college man schooled in the intricacies of major league play by Mickey Cochrane, is, as would quite naturally follow, something of a baseball historian. He fully realizes that the strong arm will beat the strong swinging guy every time.

GOING INTO the current eastern swing, and excluding Brooks Lawrence, only one Rhineland starter was above 500, and Johnny Klippstein's record was 3 and 6. Lawrence won 13 straight before losing, but the Springfield, Ohio, rifle required more rescue expeditions than there have been in the uppermost reaches of northwestern Canada in the wintertime. The marks of the other Redleg starters were Joe Nuxhall, 7-1, and Art Fowler, 5-9.

This accounts for the 7-3 of relief worker Hershel Freeman, who goes with Lawrence like Lefty Gomez and Johnny Murphy, Gallagher and Shanks, Martin and Lewis and Lawrence and Archib.

Dr. Tebbetts won a key game from the Dodgers by starting Hal Jeffcoat, a reformed outfielder. He has skillfully patched up his wobbly staff with Joe Black and a newcomer, Don Gross. Stacked against Tebbetts on the Milwaukee side is the very regular rotation of Bob Buhl, 12-4, Lew Burdette, 11-4, Ray Crone, 9-4, Warren Spahn, 9-7, and Gene Conley, 4-6.

THE LATTER, hampered by arm trouble in the spring, could be the best of the lot. Spahn started slowly, but is rolling now. Bob Trowbridge is an extra hand and backing up the starters are the superlative relief workers, Dave Jolly and Ernie Johnson, Lou Sleater is an experienced left-hander and a newcomer named Phillips bobs up here and there.

While Tebbetts is looking desperately for pitching, all Fred Haney has to do is relate his starters and bring in firemen when trouble starts. And the Braves have their full share of heavy artillery headed by Henry Aaron, Joe Adcock and Eddie Matthews.

A football team has to have a running attack to set up its passing, despite the professional version. And all the long distance hitting in 100 Babe Ruths and Mickey Mantles won't get a big league club anywhere without something that at least passes for pitching.

THERE ARE CLASSIC examples of this. In 1927, the Giants' infield was composed of Bill Terry, Rogers Hornsby, Travis Jackson and Freddie Lindsom. In the outfield were Eddie Roush and Mel Ott, just beginning to swat the ball out of everybody's reach. That edition of celebrated Polo Grounders finished third.

The Phillies had vaunted swatters—Joe Mauer, Cy Williams, Lefty O'Doul, Chuck Klein and Ben Hauer, among them—swinging for them in a handbox park in the late 1920's and early '30's, but never were better than fourth.

With all their power since Tom Yawkey bought the franchise, the Red Sox have won just one pennant—and that freshly removed from the war years—in 1918. The Giants manufactured 221 home runs for a record in 1947 and ran fourth.

As Dizzy Dean says, somebody has to set them down and

Carter Aiming For Heavyweight Title

By OWEN CRUMB
Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—If Archie Moore doesn't manage to get into a title ring with Floyd Patterson soon, he'll find a young and sturdy fellow named Harold Carter itching to take him on.

From what Carter did to the veteran Bob Satterfield last night, Moore will find himself in a scrap.

"I want to be heavyweight champion, that's my goal," the Linden, N. J., youth beamed after he put Satterfield away decisively. Carter won the first four rounds on all cards then put Satterfield down twice in the fifth.

As ageing Bob began to slump down along the ropes the third time, referee Teddy Martin waved his hands to end it.

If Moore doesn't book Carter, he wants Floyd Patterson, who will have an examination of his injured hand Friday to determine whether he will meet Moore in September for the vacant heavyweight title.

In the final fifth, Carter caught the Chicago boxer first with a hard left to the head and a combination to the body that put Satterfield down. Bob was up on the nine count only to run into another quick flurry and he hit the canvas again.

Then Carter caught him with a hard right to the body that sent Satterfield whirling across the ring and up again the ropes in Carter's corner. He grabbed the strands and bounced back. They flurried briefly in the center of the ring and Carter forced him against the ropes in a neutral corner.

Another quick combo and Satterfield began to slide down the ropes. Martin stopped it as he was going down for the third and final knockdown—under New York State rules.

For Carter, ranked ninth to sixth for Satterfield going into last night's fray, it brought his record to 19 wins, 2 losses and 2 draws.

Left fielder Bill Massa was the plug behind the spark as he hammered five hits in six trips. A homer, triple, two doubles and a single kept him base running all the time.

Catcher Schmaier also homered for Certs and Calson tripled. Ritchie came through with a three bagger for Nicks.

Certs made their big play in the top of the second when five runs crossed the plate.

Promise Made Three Years Ago in Korea Finally Fulfilled

McKeesport (AP)—A promise made to a Korean house boy by a former Army sergeant more than three years ago has been fulfilled with the arrival of Cheung Mickey Key Wan.

When Mickey landed at Greater Pittsburgh Airport and embraced his benefactor, LaVerne R. Leffard, 30, it was the end of a three-year struggle to bring the 18-year-old Korean orphan to this country.

Mickey, who understands more English than he speaks, grinned broadly when he saw his "old Army buddy." Lefford, who gave up an eight-year Army career to bring his friend home, said:

"That's all the thanks I need. I feel great that I was able to succeed in my promise to bring him here."

Leffard explained that he met Mickey while serving with the 424th Field Artillery near Seoul. Mickey was a houseboy in the barracks.

"I took an immediate liking to Mickey and decided to help him," Leffard said. "When I learned I would have to be discharged from the Army to bring him to McKeesport, I did it willingly and have no regrets."

The boy is to live with the Leffards until he himself decides what he wants to do.

Baseball Cursing Up for Complaint

Philadelphia (AP)—A Philadelphia restaurant operator has written National League President Warren Giles to complain about the language used by Dee Fondy and Don Hoak on the field at Connie Mack Stadium during a ball game.

John Taxin said the two Chicago Cub players used language which was "unprintable" during a game Tuesday night against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Taxin said the incident took place as he sat in his box at the field with a party of friends and his wife and son.

In a letter to Giles yesterday, Taxin said the "actions" of Hoak and Fondy "can do lots of harm to organized baseball and to the youth of this country who look up to big league ballplayers."

Taxin, proprietor of the Old Original Bookbinders restaurant, said that in the seventh inning of the game "Fondy was standing at the edge of the dugout and was calling the Cub Coach Ray Blades the vilest names I have ever heard anywhere."

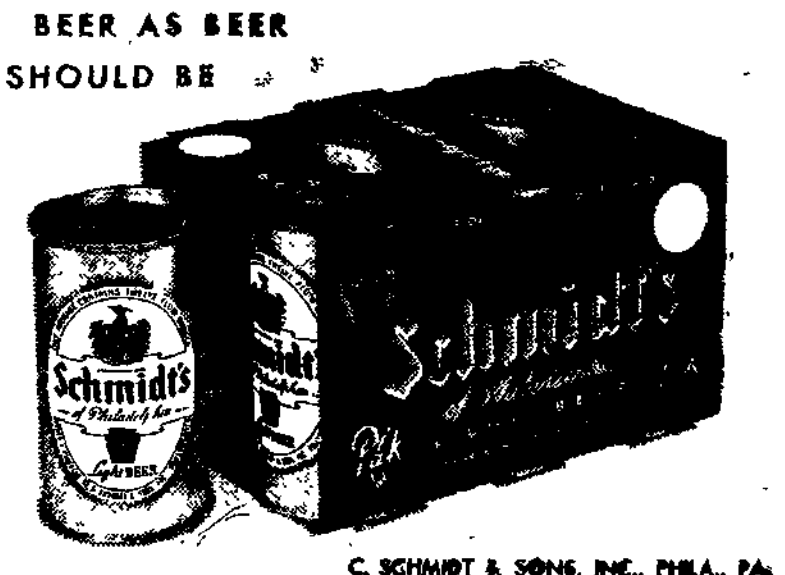

Taxin said one of his party called to Fondy and told him to stop as there were women and children listening to him. Then, Taxin said, Hoak replied to the protest using an "unprintable" word.

Fondy said "I don't know anything about it," while Hoak denied saying anything to anyone in the stands. Cub Manager Stan Hack also said he knew nothing about the incident and Blades declined to comment.

Thousands of Trout Stocked in County Streams This Year

The in-season planting of 989,028 brook, brown and rainbow trout in Commonwealth waters by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission boosted the total releases of legal sized trout to a record 2,793,897 for the 1956 season, according to Dewey Sorenson, Superintendent of Hatcheries for the Commission. Included in the total, which, as estimated earlier was 16% above the 1955 plantings were 1,005,800 brook trout, 1,078,521 brown and 709,576 rainbow trout.

The summary shows that 3,900 brook trout were stocked in streams in Warren county, 5,000 brown and 11,600 rainbow. The figures for nearby Forest county are as follows: brook, 3,700; brown, 3,400 and rainbow, 6,300.

For the most part, the releases were "yearlings," spawned in the late fall of 1954. They ranged in size from 6 1/2 to 10 1/2 inches. The remainder, equally distributed among all shipments, were 2-year-olds and excess breeders ranging up to eighteen inches in length.

The distribution program which got under way on February 3, and continued through mid-June with only a two week pause following the opening of the season on April 15, was completed by 40 special tank trucks which rolled up over a half million miles in the interim.

Olympics Amateur Pledge Personal Honesty Matter

Chicago (AP)—A new amateur pledge, taken by entries in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne "is a matter of personal honesty" and is designed to thwart athletes attempting to use the Olympics as a springboard to professional careers.

The pledge, which Chicago's Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says was written into the books after "several years consideration," requires contestants in the games to declare on their entry blanks:

"I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

Young Pros Given a Good Chance Against Old Guard at Tam O'

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago (AP)—Golf's more youthful pros were given a good chance to outdig the so-called Old Guard as prospecting started today in the $146,200 Tam O'Shanter tournaments.

Fellows like Dow Finsterwald, leading money winner, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer and Mike Souchak were eager to crash through on top.

The youngest player ever to win the "World Championship" and its fabulous prize, which now totals $50,000, was Bob Toski. He was 27 when he took it in 1954.

The first phase of Tam's mid-summer madness today sent a total field of 223 into the opening round of the All American jamboree.

The winner's share of this one for men pros is a $3,420 pittance. Women pros shoot for a top prize of $1,000. Men amateurs and women amateurs go for merchandise awards.

All four groups play in separate sections simultaneously through 72 holes of medal play ending Sunday.

They must compete in the All American to be eligible to get a spot in the "World Championship"—the granddaddy of golf's big money meets with a cash prize purse of $101,200 for men pros and $15,000 winner's share of $6,000 for women pros.

Doug Ford and Patty Berg return to defend their pro titles in the All American. Doug Sanders and Wiffi Smith did not report in and their men's and women's amateur honors are up for grabs.

Julius Boros was the big "World" winner, carting off the $50,000 in cash and picking up $1,000 each for 56 exhibitions under contract to tournament sponsor George S. May.

Bingle May Hold Bucs and Tiger Stock Awhile

Hayden Lake, Idaho (AP)—Bing Crosby says he will probably continue to hold both his Pittsburgh Pirate baseball stock and his newly acquired Detroit Tiger shares until next spring.

Commenting on reports that baseball Commissioner Ford Frick would require him to dispose of stock in one of the clubs "within a reasonable time," Crosby said last night:

"A decision by Mr. Frick, I understand, is forthcoming, but I understand that decision won't be made until next spring."

Earlier, Crosby's brother, Larry, said in the event the crooner was forced to sell shares in one of the clubs he would keep the Pirate stock.

Warren Elks Win Over Jamestown Moosers 11 to 4

The Warren Elks, playing their first Wednesday evening game of the season in the Penn-York League, scored an easy victory 11 to 4 over the Jamestown Moose before a big crowd of patients, staffers and interested fans on the State Hospital diamond last evening.

Warren took the lead in the opening innings, scoring the first tally of the game on a base on balls, sacrifice and single, but Jamestown came back with three in the second through a combination of hits batsman, a couple passed balls, sacrifices and three hits. They were finally retired by a fast double play, pitcher to first base.

Warren came right back by scoring two runs to even it up following Augustine's three-bagger, singles by Drexler and Erickson.

A single and long three-bagger to deep center scored another for the visitors in the third, and it proved their last. It was a big inning for the home-town boys with five tallies crossing the platter, on a series of errors, walks and combination of timely hitting by the locals including a two-bagger by Erickson. Two more came over in the fifth and another in the sixth.

Lack of a Warning System Emphasized in Report on Alert

The official report of Civil Defense's "Operation Alert" in Warren County lamented the lack of warning sirens, but told of excellent "concordance" coverage.

W. C. Fuellhart, Warren CD director, sent the report to Ross I. Shub of Butler, area CD director. Fuellhart said that all communities in the county were warned of the alert by the wail of local fire engine sirens.

Of 109 others besides official monitors who sent reports to CD headquarters on reception, only six said they had difficulty. As four of these lived in the borough, it is assumed they had missed the 40 kilocycle wave length.

Fuellhart praised the work of the 725 regular and volunteer police and others who contributed making the test an operational success as far as CD techniques are concerned. A better public participation is expected with the acquisition of sirens.

Tennessee. In the convention starting at Chicago a week from today, it will take 686½ votes to win.

The claim of swelling Harriman support came from Frank McKinney, former Democratic national chairman and a booster of the New York governor.

McKinney said at Chicago last night that Harriman "has picked up 89 to 100 votes" since Kefauver withdrew.

That, said McKinney, means Harriman will have "in the neighborhood of 450 votes" out of the total of 1,372 when the convention opens. Stevenson, he said, will have "something short of 500."

But Stevenson backers—including Kefauver himself—took an entirely different slant on the question of which way Kefauver delegates will turn.

Other political developments: Atlanta—Leaders of 11 Southern state delegations to the Democratic National Convention agreed that a campaign platform acceptable to Southerners can be written. They dismissed any notion of setting up a third party.

Minneapolis—Kefauver's Midwest representative, Robert Short, said: "If Stevenson asks Kefauver to nominate him and asks Kefauver to accept second place on the ticket, I think Stevenson can be nominated on the first ballot."

The Home Telephone Company moved to its present location in the bank building in 1945, and converted to dial in 1947. The present employees are Mrs. Lawrence Silvis, Miss Mary Cashmere, E. J. (Buck) Henry and R. C. Olson. The retiring board of directors are: Dr. J. A. Allen, vice president; J. C. Keller, treasurer; P. J. Fmerty, secretary; Donald W. Gibson and A. M. Gibson, presidents.

Mr. Payne and his associates have a record of successful operations in the Telephone business for many years and plan to expand and improve the present facilities as needed. A new cable extending along Center street from the telephone office to Pratt street will be installed this fall to provide more circuits for new lines needed in that area.

Mr. Gibson will remain associated with the company until January 1st, and will also be on the board of directors of Telephone Utilities of Pennsylvania.

He stated since he is a candidate for re-election to the Legislature he would now be able, if elected, to give more time to serving the interest of his constituents, now that membership in the Legislature is almost a full time job. The Gibsons will continue to live in Sheffield.

ready begun preliminary talks with local contractors about finishing the emergency clearance work.

Tomorrow, backed by the resolution, State Senator Leroy E. Chapman, Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson, Borough Manager George Geraci, and Councilman James Frantz will be in Harrisburg for a 2:00 P. M. meeting with head of Department of Forest and Waters, Maurice K. Goddard.

However, Geraci said that the emergency aid would not be the main topic of discussion at the meeting. He said the overall flood control project, costing nearly $250,000 would be principal item discussed.

Encasement of Indian Hollow Run from Myrtle to Brook Street, plus clearing the stream would cost an estimated $93,000. Another $140,000 will be asked to clear Glade Run and put a cement stream bed and sides from the Allegheny River back to the bottleneck, about a block above Pennsylvania Avenue.

Eisen was supported by the Labor party leader, Hugh Gaitskell. Eisen spoke as Dulles, Lloyd and Pinneau adjourned a morning meeting until after lunch, when they expect to wind up their talks. Dulles said he intends to leave for the United States tonight.

Diplomatic experts worked through the night in London preparing the draft of the proposal for an international conference on the Suez to which the nations using the canal must be invited, along with Egypt and the Soviet Union.

Under the plan, the Western Big Three would call a conference of interested nations—including Russia and Egypt—to be held within a few weeks, perhaps in London.

With the invitation would go a proposal for what French informants described as an international organization to "manage" the canal. British sources said the proposed organization would "control or supervise" the vital 103-mile waterway.

He said the Republican National Convention in San Francisco later this month will be "open" to anybody who wants to seek the vice presidential nomination.

Stassen said he interpreted Eisenhower's news conference remarks as a go-ahead for his plans to try to put across Herter's nomination.

Schoepel and Simpson predicted that Nixon—whom they described as "exceptional" and "trial tested"—will be renominated "by acclamation on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention despite the irresponsible actions of Harold E. Stassen."

Interviewed on NBC last night, Stassen said he is not conducting a "dump Nixon" campaign. He called it "an elect Eisenhower drive and an Eisenhower-Herter drive."

Extra Troops Help Put Down Honduras Rioters

Tegucigalpa, Honduras (AP)—Extra troops patrolled the Honduran capital today in the wake of an abortive seven-hour revolt that claimed at least 30 lives. But citizens used to sporadic outbreaks went about their business as usual.

Authorities rounded up 130 suspects for questioning in connection with the attempt against the harassed regime of Honduras' constitutional dictator, chief of state Julio Lozano.

A government spokesman said the revolt began at 1:30 a. m. yesterday when 400 troops stationed at the San Francisco armory attempted to seize the city.

The government brought up infantry and opened fire on the armory until the rebels ran up the white flag at 9 a. m.

Kefauver Supporters Are Switching to Stevenson

Philadelphia (AP)—Two of U. S. Sen. Estes Kefauver's eight supporters in Pennsylvania's Democratic convention delegation have switched to Adlai Stevenson.

The action yesterday followed Kefauver's withdrawal from the presidential nomination race and it increased Stevenson's strength in the Keystone State delegation to 103 of the 148 total, each with a half vote.

Four other members who had backed Kefauver were unavailable for comment while the remaining two said they were still "undecided" about their new choice.

Of the Pennsylvania delegates a total of 38 still are uncommitted.

AUTO THEFT RING BROKEN

Towson, Md. (AP)—Investigators claimed today to have cracked an enormous ring of young thieves operating under the direction of a 25-year-old man: Capt. Gilbert Doyle, chief of the Baltimore County Detective Bureau, said the gang called itself the "Four Aces" and specialized in stealing automobile accessories.

Arthur Lee Hash, 23, was identified by police as the leader and organizer of the gang and was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

BOY ROBBER SHOT

Uniontown (AP)—A 17-year-old boy shot in the chest in an attempted grocery store holdup was reported in serious condition today at Uniontown Hospital. The store owner A. O. Partridge, 81, told police that Robert Dean of Edenborn, entered the empty grocery store yesterday and demanded the money. Partridge whipped a .32 calibre revolver from under the counter and shot the youth at point blank range, police said.

TWO DEAD IN CRASH

Farrell (AP)—An auto veered off a road between Brookfield and Sharon yesterday and rammed a tree, killing an Ohio restaurateur and a waitress. Dead were Harry T. Costes, 28, of Warren, Ohio, formerly of Farrell and co-owner of a Farrell restaurant, and Mrs. Ruth Pacak, 29, of Youngstown, a waitress. Police said Mrs. Pacak apparently was driving the car. It missed a sharp curve and rammed the tree.

BAKERS GET MORE DOUGH!

Pittsburgh (AP)—Some 1,000 bakers have received a nine-cent-an-hour wage increase under a new contract signed with seven bakeries in the Pittsburgh district. The contract, signed by local 12 of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers, is retroactive to July 1 and, effective next May 1, increases from five to 10 cents per hour the bakers' contribution to the bakers' pension fund.

SEA TRAGEDY PROBE

New York (AP)—Counsel for a House subcommittee will be assigned as observers at the Italian and Swedish investigations of the Andrea Doria-Stockholm crash in which the Italian liner was sunk. Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-NC), who opened a House Merchant Marine Committee study yesterday, said there might be open hearings in Washington on the crash.

BURN CROSS IN TEXAS

Beaumont, Tex. (AP)—Hooded figures burned a 12-foot cross on the campus of Lamar State College of Technology last night. Witnesses said four to six hooded figures planted the cross and set it afire, then fled in a car. Lamar Tech was ordered Monday by U. S. Dist. Judge Lamar Cecil to open its doors to Negroes this fall.

VFW SUMMER PICNIC

All members of Dinsmoor-Schwing Post 631, veterans of Foreign Wars, along with social members and the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans Post, will gather at Cornplanter Gun Club Saturday to enjoy a summer outing and picnic. Morton Fromm, department commander of Pennsylvania VFW, and William Bailey, District 19 commander, will be special guests and all are urged to be in attendance.

JURY FEES EXHAUSTED

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Allegheny County budget director is looking for an additional $48,000 to pay jury fees. County commissioners yesterday directed the budget director to look for the funds after Controller James W. Knox reported that the $48,000 appropriation for jury fees already had been exhausted by the courts.

BROTHERHOOD OUTING

Calvary Baptist Brotherhood has planned a family picnic this evening at Chapman Dam Park, picknickers to bring turkeys and table service, the committee to provide ice cream, coffee and milk. In case of rain, the affair will be postponed.

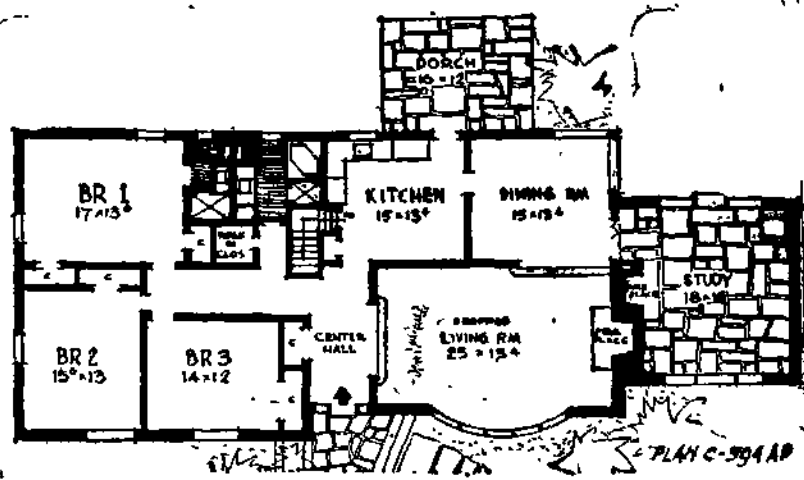

JAMESTOWN MAN FINED

A 68-year-old Jamestown man paid $10 fine and costs this morning after Peace Justice Ervin N. Branch heard his plea of guilty to disorderly conduct charges. Albert Fox of 10 South Main street was arrested by Warren police last night on Pennsylvania avenue, west, then spent a quiet night in the lockup.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A FLAGSTONE paved study with a fireplace features this house. Glass doors open from study to garden. A garage for three cars is located under the bedroom side. Living room is dropped two steps down from center hall and dining room. The house covers 2,375 square feet and measures 82½ feet across the front. This is plan C-594AP by Lester Cohen, Architect's Home Plan Bureau, Box 141, Bethlehem, Conn.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

L. E. Stoltz

In southern Mexico is an ahuehuate tree reputed to be 5,000 years old, and its 120-foot circumference is still being increased by layers of annual growth, for the tree is still healthy and vigorous.

If we accept this figure, then this ahuehuate, known as the Tree of El Tule, has lived through a thousand years more of history than the oldest of California's famed redwood trees.

Compared to the three score and ten years of man's life a California redwood or a Mexican ahuehuate tree seems immortal, but these are exceptions in the world of trees.

For a tree to reach great age, it must be wind firm, fire and decay resistant, and its foliage must be unattractive to leaf-eating insects which might cut off its food supply by repeated defoliation.

Some forest trees, such as the grey birch, and fire cherry are notoriously short-lived for a purpose. As "nurse trees" they reproduce abundantly on burned over or slashed over areas, and quickly form a protective covering for forest soil abused by fire or overcutting until the more valuable and longer-lived species of trees can get established.

One might assume that the slower growing tree species are the longer-lived ones, for in the animal world the slow-moving tortoise and elephant have long life spans, but this does not always hold true among trees. The California redwood is one of the few cone-bearing trees that has the capacity to sprout, and in the wake of logging redwood sprouts spring up which make extremely rapid growth.

The oldest tree in the forests of Pennsylvania is the Hemlock which can be expected to live to be from 400 to 500 years old, although one well authenticated specimen cut in Luzerne County in 1898 showed 969 annual rings on the stump.

But the forests of America today are composed mostly of young trees. Three centuries of Empire building have destroyed nearly all of the virgin forest. Because young forests grow rapidly, we now find that we are growing more wood than we are cutting. Such a statement can easily be misinterpreted to mean that everything is satisfactory now in our forests. We are growing more wood than we are cutting only if we lump together all species, including the inferior ones, good quality and poor quality trees, and the pitifully small ones. If we reach into this woodpile and look for quality sawlog material, we find that there is a deficiency of this material in these young forests. We find that we are growing 25% less softwood sawtimber than we are using, and this is the kind of timber we cut and use most in America. If we aren't meeting our needs now for quality sawtimber, the situation will become even more critical by the year 2,000 A. D. when population experts predict a population of 275 million people in the United States.

We have sufficient forest land to meet the challenge of the spiraling population curve, provided we plant the 50 million acres in need of planting; improve the stocking on the one-fourth of our forest land that is now poorly stocked; reduce the depredations of fire, insects and disease which kill one-fourth of the net annual growth of our forests; and utilize more fully the timber that we do cut instead of leaving one-fourth of it in the woods to rot.

Although we need not wait five millennia to grow a tree like a Mexican ahuehuate, or five centuries to add the last ring of growth to a Hemlock we do need to have the patience to let our forests grow up into quality sawtimber. Through modern forest management we can speed up this process immeasurably, and meet the challenge of the year 2,000.

HAIL OF A NOTE—William McNamara, who farms north of Walker, Iowa, looks over some of the 95 acres of corn he lost in a tremendous hailstorm. Twenty-four windows in his house were broken by fist-size hailstones. Other hail came down in larger chunks and slabs. Some went through the roof.

A large modern kitchen, a spacious master bedroom and new bath completes the first floor. There is a large bedroom and walk-in closet on the second floor. Basement under the entire home partitioned for garage, workshop and laundry. Utilities? They are all there including fresh spring water that is unobtainable, natural gas for the furnace and electrically. And if you have a hobby of growing trees there is nearly 2,000 new plantings of Red Pine, Norway Spruce and Blue Spruce. In addition to 20 acres of cleared land there is an additional 40 acres of woods. Located East from Warren about 15-minutes drive. I'm proud of this listing at $9,500! May I show it to you?
